DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure does not commence on a separate sheet in accordance with 37 CFR 1.52(b)(4). A new abstract of the disclosure is required and must be presented on a separate sheet, apart from any other text.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by either of Call et al., US 2002/0124664 A1 or Lopez et al., US 2003/0058099 A1.

Both references teach a system for sorting and sanitizing mailpieces wherein the mail is singulated and feed via conveyor through a detection station from where it can be conveyed through a sanitation section and/or is distributed according to an OCR reading.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 4-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Call et al., or Lopez et al., as applied to claims 1-3 above, and further in view of Stirling et al., U.S. patent No. 6,191,424.

Stirling et al., teach a configuration for sterilizing irradiation of articles on a conveyance, wherein there is provided a pair of channels having a cavity therein and a gap therebetween. The gap contains UV radiation means and is the location where sterilization/disinfection occurs without disruption of the conveyance and without requiring user intervention. See the abstract and column 3.

Both Call et al., and Lopez et al., utilize conventional mail handling conveyance and Call et al., teaches that one form of sterilization is UV radiation. It would have been well within the purview of one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize a structure such as that taught in Stirling et al., for the sanitation station in either Call et al., or Lopez et al., because it would provide for effective means to retrofit existing mail handling conveyances to provide effective decontamination requiring to user interaction.
